THE CHINA REVIEW.

PUBLISHED BI MONTHLY.

/17HIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of ' Notes and Queries on China and Japan, has reached its Twenty-third Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information, it includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethaology, Folklore, Geography, History Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, wiel Hoof a Might was and Quellows, etc., etc., of Chine, Japan, Monwolf i, Pihet, and the . For East generally. Recently a new decarters has been taken, and the Barga now ives popers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known written. It was thought that by extending the zcope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally.

The Review department receives special attention, and ondeavours are made to ELECTRIC SUPPLIES present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying acotches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to 'Elitor, China Review, care of China Mail Office." The Notes and Queries are still continued and om an important means of obtaining, from and dilliamy among stutents knowledge on obscure points.

The Correspondents' column also affords farther and greater facilities for the interchange of views and discussion of various Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are received. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, the Imperial Customs, and Hengkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whem a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assiduously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, Eitel, Brotschneider, and Hirth, Professor Legger and Messra Balfour, Watters, Stent, Phillips, MacIntyre, Groot, Jamieson, Faber, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Giles, Piton, and Taylor,—all well-known names, indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject.

The Subscription is fixed at $6.50 per annum, postage included - payable in ad-

Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to; Address, 'Managor, China Mail Office.

The Japanese cruiser Akitsuhima (Captain Saito), which left Manila on July 19, arrived to-day with mails. The disemwhen the cruiser left, and the U.S.S. Buston had anchored off the Sapote River, close to the City of Manila, to cover the landing of the American troops on that side of the bay. It is not expected that the general assault upon the city will take place until the arrival of General Merritt with the third convoy of transports. There some slight signs of trouble browin between the American military authorities and General Aguinaldo. We publish below letters from our correspondents.

A CAREFUL GUIDE. AMERICAN MOVE TO THE FRONT (From Our Special Correspondent with the U.S. Army.)

U.S. Army Headquarters, ___ CAVITE, July 15:

Yesterday, the let Battalion of the 1s Californian Volunteers received orders to transfer their quarters from Cavite Arsenal to the town of Parafisque, on the opposite shore, and early this morning the men-350 in all-under the command of Lieut, Colonel Duboce were taken over in cascoes or lighters to Baccor, whence they tagena, U. S. of Columbia, to enforce the will have to march into Paranaque. This is the first forward move since the arrival in Italy's favour re-the case of Signor Cer- of the American troops, and the Californions are pleased at the prospect of seeing some fighting. Not that they themselves are likely to get into action for some time, but they will be behind the rebel lines, and may have an opportunity of seeing s skirmish with the advanced outposts of the Spanish garrison.

> Along with two brother journalists, made-a trip yesterday to the rebel ontrenchments outside Malate. We crossed to Bacoor by boat, and had a painful ride in a caramata, or native carriage, to Passy, from which point we advanced on foot.

The journey has already been described in detail. It is therefore unnecessary to recapitulate, as there was no fresh incident on the way worthy of notice. At Passy the commanding officer of the insurrent army General Norial having gone to attend a Council of war at Paraning the weary days by shark fishing on aque sent us under an armed escort, had instructions not to allow to expose ourselves to Spanish sharpshooters. Behind the rebel position we found numerous deserted trenchos, abandoned by the Spaniards as they were gradually driven into the city by the insurrectors. At the point on the road held by the rebels, there was a heavy our bankment or earthwork, preventing further advance in that direction and acting as a substantial shelter from the rapid-firing jest will be to prepare students in the guns with which the Spaniards sweep the position. All along the road, the trees were pitted by the bullets, and the only shelter we had from the heat of the noon day sun was the heavy branches of the broken tress. Leaving the roadway. we edvanced slong the pathways. the fields to the left, stopping finally at the second line of entropehments beyond which our encort refused to let us budge. The leader told us he had his instructions, and he was not going to be diagraced by losing any of us. It did no matter if he were shot. He was only an insurrecto, and it was his business to expose himself to the Spanish fire; but if he allowed any of us to draw fire and to be wounded or killed, he would be disgraced in the eyes of his colonel. A proposal to olimb a tree and reconnoitre the Spanish position through our field-glasses was also negatived, as was the proposition to get has taught us, if he has failed to teach the first line of entrenchments. Here the position was open, and our white sun hats and light summer clothing would probably have been sighted by the Spanish riflemen, but we were willing to run the risk to get into the front trench. All our sophistries availed nothing. Our leader represented plausibly snough that even if we escaped (which was very probable, in my opinion) wickets or impure, circulates through the organs of the some one behind us might be hit. However, he yielded to us so far as to silow us aprends dicesso on its course. In cases of Suo to ret down to the beach, about a mile (or less) from the Malate Fort, still cocupled by the Spanish garrison. As we crept from cover to cover a couple of shots were fired, where at in 3d. per bottle. Bewate of work- and one of our party promptly flattened himself out on the ground. Only a few shots were fired whilst we were out, and thist of them were back in the interior and home directed analysis us. Rebind some Section bowen we obtained a pool view of men, fully armed with Mauser rifles and bayonets, going from point to point; and we were informed that a hig battle was being planned for Sunday. The rebels complained that, whenever they make a forward movement, Admiral Dowey turns upon them the search-lights of his vessels and we were asked to tell the Admiral to turn the lights on the Spaniards but not in the insurgents. The road. along which the main advance occurs, is less than 100 yards from the sea. A powerful search-light, therefore, shows up General Anderson was duly informed of the rebel request, While in the trench, our it, barkation of the troops was proceeding guide explained to us the rebel method of hand, and as he dashes from cover to cover of the heavy night firing, and learned that General Aguinaldo had issued orders not to wasto ammunition in useless kirmishing but to receive the Spaniands with the of the trenches.

On our journey to the front we passed picturesque crowd of female incurners, and route saw Spanish and rebel wounded. Spanish prisoners are receiving very kind treatment from the rebels. In this respect

Whilst writing the foregoing we were roused by the sound of field guns on the Manila side, and from the roof of the Ar and the Spaniards in Malate Fort. After a few exchanges, firing ceased.

CAVITS, July 16. I hear that the rebel commander-in-chief has despatched an expedition of 1000 men to Camerinas, where the Spaniards are said to have a strong force.

There has been heavy fighting again around Manila, the rebels evidently attacking the outlying Spanish positions at Tondo on the north sea-front, at Malate on the south sea-front, and in the suburbs behind the city. I judge that an attempt is being made to outflank the defenders of the Malate Fort and Powder Magazine. It is certain that the rebels will make no advance on the south side until they have captured the Malate position.

SPANISH DECEPTION. SPANISH SOLDIERS CONSIDER GAME HOPELESS.

(From Our Resident Correspondent.) MANIEA CITY, July 17. On Friday the robots attack in force the Spanish outposts of Malete, Santa Ana. Santa Mesa, Balic, Balic Gagalanguin, is said that twenty-thousand rebels engaged in the attack. The Spaniards held all their positions with only fifty killed, and wounded, while it is estimated that the rebel losses were four hundred. The rebels tried to rush the trenches, but the Spanlards from their well-protected positions kept up a steady fire, and in a fight lasting governl hours repeatedly repulsed the rebel attacks.

The rebels renewed the attack this morning, but were again repulsed. The news of the total loss of Admiral Corvera's fleet at Santiago, brought by the Japanese warship Namica, caused great panic in the city. The near arrival of Admirals Cervera's and Camara's ficets, with reinforcements for the Spaniards, in the Philippines had been announced off. cially and preached from every pulpit. The discovery of this fraud will have already disheartened and consider the game hopelessly lost.

The food supply holds out, though the quality is bad. The pumping station and water-works have been taken by the rebels. The Spin ards still hold tanks, and will the restricted daily supply- the water is turned on for two hours daily-only about a week's supply remains in the lauke. Aguinaldo has appointed native governor

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JULY 22, 1898.

From the foundation of Manila in 1571 up to the year 1819, the Colony of the Philippine Islands was a dependency of Mexico. During that long period there was absolutely no direct intercourse between the mother country and her Far Eastern stined to the Philippines passed through Mexico until that American Colony throw Noon.—English Mail Steamer leaves for off the Spanish yoke. Thencefogth, 51 years, communication with Spain was via the Cape of Good Hope. commercial thistory of the Philippines would be too long to relate here in extenso; suffice to say that it is a series of struggles between the colonists who sought liberty to trade freely with Mexico and China and the Spanish King and his Councillors and the trading community in Spain who per-> the Spanish merchant class was to hold Mexico as their exclusive market. They opposed Philippine traffic with China because this necessitated silver dollars which they knew must come from Mexico surreptitiously if the Islanders were not openly permitted to give goods in exchange. The famous galleons, which were so frequently intercepted and seized by British privateers from the days of our Queen Elizabeth onwards, formed the only connection between Mexico (Acapulco) and Manila. The regulations for shipping were, however, so restrictive that only the favorites, of the authorities over secured a chance. The arrival of the galloon in Manila Bay was the event of the season or the year. For the Europeans it was a sort of Robinson Crusoe life, with additional possible dangers. The ferecious (at times bloody) contentions between Church and State authorities were sadugn to obliterate all the werai prestige which the Spaniards ever had or might-have had amongst the natives. The galleon usually brought, together with the Mexican dollars. fresh restrictive royal decrees and motiey crowd of all sorts conditions of men; friars who had to relate how they had saved the ship from total

Finally they succeeded in having appointed a Governor General after their own hearts, Camilo Polavieja, through whom they had the Dr Rizal above mentioned executed in Manila in January last year. In 1872 there was some discontent amongst the secular native clergy because the monks persisted in holding the incumbencies, notwithstanding their own rules of which prohibit it. The friers, therefore determined to nip this native ambition in the bud. They instigated a little revolt of the troops at Cavite and attributed the plot to the native clergy. Four native priests fell victims to the intrigue and were public-THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS. ly executed. Then, following up the scheme, native priests were declared incompetent to hold incumbencies. At the same time several of the best families of Manila were banished and despoiled of their property. I am personally acquainted with two of these victims; enercesides in Hongkong and the other has his office now, and for years past, in Billiter Street, London Manila is an archbishopric, and Colony. If a young man, who has been educated in Manila or Hongkong, returns to his native town with somewhat advanced ideas, or merely salutes the priest as a gentleman, instead of kissing his hand as his spiritual father, he too is marked for social rum one day. The father of a family of attractive daughters has also to be careful lest the charms of his offspring bring about his own fall. In short, in one way or another, the native who possesses anything worth having has either to yeld to the avarice, lust or insolence of the Spanish priest or risk losing his liberty and position in life. The parish priest has simply to address what is called an oficio (official advice) to the Governor of the province who remits it to the Governor General, stating that he has reason to believe that the individuals mentioned in the margin are persons of doubtful morality, or conspirators, or disloyal, or whatever he may choose to dub them and recommend their removal from his parish. nor, and I remember when, a few years out in August 1898. The first official acts China appears to be awakening slowly from her drowsy sleep. An Imper! Edict, dated July 10, orders that the provincial colleges include instruction in Western sciences on the lines of the Peking University system in their curriculum. The Edict also orders the local authorities extreme penalty. Two months afterwards to issue proclamations converting the common Joss house into schools for the instruction of the lower classes. Another edict, dated 9th July, orders that foreign drill be started in the Army, the innovation to commence with the Manchu Banbut recently Captains General (in Spain) in Dec. 1896 by Gen. Camilo Polavieja and ners. In this connection we note from a northern exchange that Vicercy Chang Chihtung, anxious to improve the military administration in the provinces under him, has sent for two German officers lately at Woosing to be instructors in the military school there. They have now arrived and will be appointed after the Viceroy has personally examined them. The Daily Chinese Progress says that the official and and the provincial treasurer has now sanc-
